Club Murderers of Two Women Sought in Waukegan Area

Victims of Mad Brutes Left to Die in Woods in Lake County

Waukegan, Ill., June 26—(AP)—Authorities of this shocked northern Illinois community, hampered by the lack of important clues, hunted today for the brutal slayers who clubbed two women and left them to die in lonely woods.

Victims of the apparently unrelated killings were Miss Alta Fulkerson, 36, of nearby Highland Park, and Miss Thoried Arna Larson, 24, of Waukegan. Both lived with their parents.

Miss Fulkerson's body was found yesterday morning in heavy underbrush behind a dwelling a block and a half from hers. The body was clad only in undergarments and a rag was knotted about the neck. Her skull had been fractured by a heavy blow.

A dark-haired, slight woman, Miss Fulkerson had been keeping house alone while her parents were on a trip to Wisconsin. Sgt. Chester Lewis of Fort Sheridan and his wife, however, have been rooming on the second floor of the home since their marriage ten days ago.

Heard Commotion, Cries Lewis told police that about 3:30 a. m. Wednesday he heard a commotion and cries downstairs but assumed a young nephew of Miss Fulkerson was spending the night downstairs and was dreaming.

Later, the Lewises found Miss Fulkerson gone and a crushed lampshade gave indication of a struggle. They learned also the young nephew had spent the night at home with his parents.

When the elder Fulkersons returned they notified police and Lewis organized a searching party from Fort Sheridan. The soldiers found the body in the brush between a carpenter's wooden horse and a frame arch. A blue and tan checked kimono and pajamas were found 100 feet from the body.

Met Uniformed Man Miss Larson, an unemployed domestic, died in a hospital after having regained consciousness only briefly since Sunday when she was found near a wood off a state highway.

On Saturday afternoon she left her brother's home and met a Waukegan man who took her to a tavern. The man, whom police eliminated as a suspect, told officers she met a uniformed man and she informed her earlier escort she

Reaffirms Request for Fair Postponements

Washington, June 26—(AP)—Fairs should be postponed generally until after the war, especially as a means of saving tires, Director Joseph B. Eastman of the office of defense transportation insisted.

Eastman late yesterday reaffirmed a previous request that fairs be cancelled, making a formal negative reply to pleas of fair association officials.

As the purpose of the request was to save tires, Eastman said, it might properly be disregarded in the case of fairs where the amount of travel would not be greater than going to town for marketing purposes, or where local transportation systems could handle the bulk of the crowds, and "there may also be situations where the fair is to open at so early a date that postponement is now impracticable."

Canadian Ship Brought Safely in After Attack

Ottawa, June 26—(AP)—The Canadian navy announced today that a Canadian-built merchant ship had been brought safely to a west coast Canadian port after "a determined attack" by a Japanese submarine.

There was no loss of life. The navy's brief statement gave no details of the attack because of security reasons. Similarly, there was no announcement of the place of the attack except that it occurred "off Canada's west coast."

Some damage was done to the ship.

The attack on the Canadian-built merchantman was the first reported submarine operation against shipping off the Canadian west coast, although several attacks on shipping have occurred in United States Pacific waters.

Bulletin

Wayne Bunnell, 24, South Dixon, was electrocuted at about 9:30 o'clock this morning while engaged in moving a well drilling machine in a gravel pit on the Rock Island road, west of the city, when a cable which he was holding touched a high tension power line.

He was rushed to the Katherine Shaw Bethea hospital but artificial respiration was unavailing. A coroner's inquest will be held at the Preston funeral home, where the body was taken, at 9:00 o'clock Saturday morning.

Sinking of Soviet Merchantmen Laid to Jap Submarine

Moscow, June 26—(AP)—Soviet Russia pinned responsibility today for the sinking of the soviet merchantman Angarstroi on a Japanese submarine, puncturing Tokyo's insistence that the act was a provocation by the United States.

Since the 4,761-ton merchantman was torpedoed May 1 only 32 miles off the Japanese coast, Japan has blamed a United States submarine, contending that the United States evidently hoped to fan the ancient enmity between Russia and Japan.

"This version does not coincide with the facts," declared a Soviet radio.

It said survivors, who have reached Harbin on the way home, reported that two Japanese submarines surfaced immediately after the vessel went down and stayed with its crewmen until another soviet ship landed them at Dairen, in Japanese-leased territory in Manchuria.

"It appears that the Angarstroi was sunk by a Japanese submarine," the Russian announcer said after relating the circumstances, including the fact that the ship previously had been halted by Japanese warships and escorted to a Japanese port for inspection.

Until now Moscow had been silent, like the United States, on Japan's assertions which began soon after the sinking of the ship that it was an American effort "to create friction between the soviet union and Japan."

On the other hand, Japan may have been making a desperate attempt to hide the truth from her powerful neighbor. Although they are at peace between themselves, they are fighting on opposite sides of the global war.

Russia's version, delayed seven weeks apparently for investigation of the facts, coincided with what may prove to be another incident between Moscow and Tokyo. Crewmen of a Russian freighter at Sydney, Australia, said they recently were attacked three times by a submarine, presumably Japanese, and were sure they finally destroyed it.

Jury Finds Hospital Patient's Drowning Here Was Accidental

At an inquest conducted at the Dixon state hospital late Thursday afternoon a coroner's jury returned a verdict that Albert Bellumini, 29, of Chicago, an epileptic patient at the institution, had come to his death by accidental drowning.

The jury found that Bellumini suffered a seizure while walking on the river bank near the hospital grounds between 5:30 and 6 p. m. Tuesday, and fell into the water. He had been missing from the hospital since Monday night.

Fire Chief Sam Cramer and Horace Hartman, janitor at the Lee county courthouse here, recovered the body Wednesday.

America's Mighty War Efforts Shown by Report of FDR

4,000 Planes, More Than 1,500 Tanks Produced Last Month, He Says

Washington, June 26—(AP)—President Roosevelt disclosed today that America's mighty war effort, in the single month of May, had turned out nearly 4,000 planes and more than 1,500 tanks.

Releasing official war production figures for the first time since Pearl Harbor, the chief executive asserted in a statement that this country also turned out nearly 2,000 artillery and anti-aircraft guns in May, and these were exclusive of anti-aircraft guns and those to be mounted in tanks.

The May output of machine guns exceeded 50,000 weapons of all types, including infantry, aircraft and anti-aircraft. If submarine guns are added on, the total passes 100,000.

Roosevelt released these figures because, he said, they are going to give the axis just the opposite of "aid and comfort."

"We are well on our way," he declared, "towards achieving the rate of production which will bring us to our goals."

The last announced objectives of the war production program, told of in the president's annual message to Congress last January, were 185,000 planes in 1942 and 1943, 120,000 tanks, 55,000 anti-aircraft guns.

The chief executive, in citing the May figures, warned against over-confidence. He said:

"While these figures give you some idea of our production accomplishments, this is no time for the American people to get over-confident. We can't rest on our oars. We need more and more, and we will get more and more."

"And we must also remember that there are plenty of serious production problems ahead—particularly some serious shortages in raw materials, which are receiving the closest consideration of the government and industry."

The distribution of the production figures coincided with continuing Anglo-American war strategy conferences—conferences in which the White House said Rus-

Lull in Fighting in Pacific Ended

Allied Headquarters, Australia, June 26—(AP)—Three allied air attacks upon island invasion bases, in which fires set at Rabaul were reported visible 60 miles at sea, and a new Japanese thrust at Port Moresby broke a five-day lull in southwestern Pacific fighting yesterday.

Rabaul, chief port of New Britain, and Dili, Timor, were singled out for night raids which left barracks and other buildings shattered and crackling in flames, authorities said.

Japanese troop quarters and supply points at Salamaua, New Guinea, were reported successfully attacked with bombs and machine-guns by daylight and in all of this activity General Douglas MacArthur's airmen lost not a plane.

A large force of Zero fighters was engaged sharply by interceptors over Port Moresby, the advanced allied base on New Guinea, the communique reported.

"Our fighters apparently seriously damaged five Japanese fighters," it said. "Four of our planes were hit by machine-gun fire. None was seriously damaged. All returned safely."

Housewives Jump Into Campaign to Put Skids Under Hirohito and Hitler

Chicago, June 26—(AP)—Chicago housewives jumped into a new campaign today to help put the skids under Hirohito and Hitler. It's a city-wide drive to collect their kitchen fats and greases.

A specially-trained corps of 7,000 women has set out to inform the housewives how to conserve fats and to explain their importance in the manufacture of glycerine for explosives.

The campaign will continue for two weeks. Nathaniel Leverone, Illinois salvage director, said it would be used as the model for a drive of national proportions to save an estimated billion pounds of grease thrown away each year. Advance community campaigns,

Strike of 11,000 Stops War-Vital Pontiac Factory

Pontiac, Mich., June 26—(AP)—Approximately 11,000 employees of the war-vital Yellow Truck & Coach Company went on strike today in a dispute over wages for time lost during a 20-minute blackout and Army officers and international union officials said they were "making every effort" to send them back to work immediately.

Col. Ray M. Hare, commanding officer of Fort Wayne, Army quartermaster's depot at Detroit, said the war department had been informed of the situation here and was "very much concerned about the stoppage of work."

"This comes at a time when every minute of productive effort is most precious to the men on our fighting fronts," Col. Hare said.

R. J. Thomas, international president of the United Automobile Workers-CIO, appealed directly to the strikers to end their walk-out describing it as unauthorized and as a "direct violation of our constitution x x x and of our pledge to President Roosevelt that there will be no strikes for the duration of the war."

All Production Stops
Roger J. Emmert, vice president and factory manager of Yellow Truck, said the strike brought all production operations to a standstill and that pickets, while permitting some maintenance men to enter, were barring engineering and office employees as well as those engaged in actual manufacturing.

He explained that the 20-minute blackout Wednesday night was arranged "in cooperation with the civilian defense authorities" and at the request of W. F. Kalwitz.

Discovery

New York, June 26—(AP)—The American Museum of Natural History has sent several expeditions over a period of many years into the jungles of Java and Malaya seeking the skull of a rhinoceros sondaicus, a rare species.

With the fall of the Dutch East Indies and the Malay states, the museum feared it would be years, if ever, before such a skull could be added to its fossil collection.

But soon the skull of a rhinoceros sondaicus will be on display at the museum.

They found it in the museum's own attic, where it had lain unrecognized for more than 70 years.

Pound Way Toward Riches of Middle Eastern Countries

Over Thousand Planes Batter Industrial Parts of Reich

By ROGER D. GREENE
Associated Press War Editor
Germany, battered at home anew to thousands of tons of British bombs, struck furiously toward the riches of the Middle East today along two routes, southern Russia and North Africa, amid indications that a great showdown battle for Egypt was imminent.

Cairo dispatches said the main force of Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's mechanized armies, climaxing a 100-mile advance in two days, now was confronting the British about 30 miles west of Matruh.

In the interim, the main axis army surged forward, dispatches said, but so far had not yet collided with the new British defense lines.

The decisive battle was expected to start at any moment. Latest reports said the heavy axis armored columns, supported by mobile infantry, were rumbling along a wide natural avenue about midway between the Mediterranean sea coast and a desert plateau rising 25 to 30 miles inland.

British armored patrols were reported to have scattered other axis light forces along the western rim of the Quattara depression about 90 miles inside Egypt.

The main British forces were described as drawn up about 20 miles west of Matruh, key railroad 160 miles west of Alexandria.

Over Thousand Bombers
Other major developments saw the British hurl another huge-scale aerial assault of more than 1,000 bombers against Bremen in the reich, while Russia's Red Air Force last ground in the new Kharkov battle but held fast in the siege of Sevastopol.

London military experts said the swift axis drive into Egypt, coupled with the German thrust toward Russia's Caucasus, was likely to make the next week one of the most critical periods of the war.

These quarters said Rommel could throw approximately 100,000 troops into the attack on the main British defense line before Matruh, with the outcome perhaps involving the fate of Egypt and the entire allied position in the

Hyde Park Teacher is Discharged for Talk Derogatory to Union

Chicago, June 26—(AP)—Mrs. Rose K. Joyce, Hyde Park high school history teacher, was discharged by the Chicago Board of Education after the board decided unanimously she had made derogatory to the United States government.

A teacher in Chicago schools since 1926, Miss Joyce was tried last month by board members sitting as a trial committee. They found she had said "Japan had every right to declare war on the United States; that the United States was wrong in declaring war on Japan; that the government was wrong in its attitude toward Japan; that the government was wrong in its attitude toward war; and that Hitler was trying to establish a democracy in Europe and that the United States and Great Britain were trying to prevent it."

Two Trainmen Killed, Third Injured, When Arizona Bridge Falls

Parker, Ariz., June 26—(AP)—Two trainmen were killed and a third badly injured as a Santa Fe train, with a group of Army Air Corps cadets aboard, plunged through a fire-swept bridge late last night. The Southern California defense command announced an investigation to determine whether saboteurs were responsible.

The dead were announced by the Santa Fe as Engineer E. J. Murray, and Fireman D. L. Bentz. Preliminary reports were that all the cadets escaped injury. Baggageman A. C. Pihl, was reported seriously injured.

Santa Fe spokesmen said the bridge's underpinning had been burned, and collapsed under the locomotive's weight. The engine and a chair car went into a shallow wash, leaving two Pullman on the tracks. The cadets were reported all passengers in the Pullmans.

Cream of Illinois' Fighting Reserves Start Registration

Will Be Given Serial Numbers on Basis of Their Birth Dates

The cream of Illinois' fighting reserve—young men of 18 and 19, and those who have reached the age of 20 since Dec. 31—began to register for selective service throughout the state today.

They were the fifth and youngest group to register since the United States undertook its defense program in 1940. Col. Paul G. Armstrong, Illinois director of selective service, estimated the registration would add 288,000 names to his lists—158,400 in Cook county and 129,600 downstate.

For the most part, Armstrong said, the boys will register at the offices of local selective service boards. Only in specially large areas will schools or other temporary offices be opened for the enrollment.

Registration hours will be from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. today and tomorrow. There will be no registration on Sunday. On Monday, the hours will be 6 a. m. to 9 p. m., and on Tuesday, the final registration day, from 6 a. m. to 9 p. m.

No Lottery Planned

The 20-year-old registrants are subject to military service and the younger registrants will be after they become 20. National headquarters has announced that the new registrants will be given serial and order numbers on the basis of their birth dates. No national lottery will be held, as was the case after other registrations.

Local boards have been instructed to arrange the registration cards in a pile according to respective birth dates so the cards of registrants born on Jan. 1, 1922, will be on the top and those born on June 30, 1924, at the bottom. For persons born on the same date, the cards will be arranged alphabetically.

Serial numbers will be assigned to the registrants so that the one whose card heads the list will receive number N-1. The registrant with number N-1 will then

Daughter of Fulton Co. Sheriff Heroine

Canton, Ill., June 26—(AP)—Ruth Cook, the sheriff's 15-year-old daughter, is the heroine of the Fulton county jail. Single handed she stopped a jail break and captured Ernest Jennings, 18, a 180-pounder from Farmington.

Sheriff B. E. Cook was taking another prisoner from the jail for a court hearing late yesterday when Jennings dashed past him and raced through the sheriff's office, into the kitchen and toward the outside door. There he met Miss Cook, who weighs 118 pounds.

By the time the sheriff returned his other prisoner to the lockup and holed the front doors, most of the kitchen furniture had been overturned. Jennings' shirt had been torn off. He and the girl had rolled through the door into the jail yard. But the girl hung on and Jennings was subdued.

Back in solitary confinement, when Jennings thought over his capture he tore up a steel bunk in chagrin.

The War Today!

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Wide World War Analyst
(Telegraph Special Service)

The fate of Egypt, and the broader interlocking issue of control of the all-important Middle East, is being written by now in the hot sands of the desert before the British coastal stronghold of Matruh which guards the approach to the mighty naval base of Alexandria and the Suez canal.

Nazi Marshal Rommel, racing eastward against time in an effort to trap the defeated British eighth army before it has a chance to reorganize, contacted the enemy covering forces 30 miles west of Matruh this morning, presaging a quick joining of the main battle. We should know soon whether General Ritchie has had sufficient time to realign his weary forces after their retreat and to move into his defensive line the reinforcement which reportedly are arriving.

It is a momentous hour. British Premier Churchill is quoted as having said yesterday in Washington that Britain would hold and that there was no danger of losing Egypt and Suez. One takes the liberty of assuming that the prime minister didn't mean literally that the danger didn't exist, but that he expected it to be overcome.

Certainly Ritchie's position at the fortified and well-served base of Matruh is far better than it would have been had he tried to make a stand at the Egyptian border. Rommel, on the other hand, suffers the disadvantage of greatly extended and highly vulnerable communications, which must give him much concern especially as regards the supply of drinking water, for without it men die quickly.

Unorthodox

Milwaukee, June 26—(AP)—A court ordered a 23-year-old man held for examination because of his unorthodox wooing methods.

Police charged him with disorderly conduct after he sat behind a girl in a theater, introduced himself by pulling her curls and pursued her from seat to seat with two questions:

"Could she cook and would she marry him?"

The youth had four unissued marriage licenses from various states in his pocket.

Confidence of Japanese Shaken by U. S. Raid Says Neutral Eyewitness

Ankara, June 26—(AP)—An eye-witness to the United States air attack on Tokyo last April 18, who was in a Tokyo street when the raid occurred, said today the Japanese were thrown into panic and depressed by the feeble defense.

The story was told by a national of a neutral country who has just arrived here.

"The daylight raid," he said, "was a complete surprise and shook the people's confidence as the government had boasted that American planes would never be seen over the Capital."

"Tokyo's close-packed, highly-inflammable buildings were spared as the planes went on to bomb targets between the Capital and Yokohama and other important industrial centers."

He said foreigners were not permitted outside of Tokyo to inspect

Observers Expect Churchill to Keep Prime Ministership

Facing Third and Most Serious Challenge of Premiership

London, June 26—(Wide World)—Winston Churchill's mastery of oratory and political strategy, backed by the powerful Conservative party, will be thrown into the forthcoming House of Commons battle over an insurgent motion for a vote of "no confidence" in the prime minister's direction of the war.

And political observers expect him to win a vote of confidence—with perhaps 20 votes cast against him and a number abstaining from voting.

(Abstentions would indicate dissatisfaction of Conservatives not wanting to risk the anger of the party by voting openly against the prime minister.)

Churchill supporters predict that in facing the third and most serious political crisis of his premier-

Blackburn's Plea for Probation Up

Donald Blackburn, age 20, who has been in the Lee county jail under indictment for manslaughter in connection with the death of Charles Robert Ball, age 12, who was struck on the evening of April 29 this year by Blackburn's car on Fourth avenue in Swissville, a suburb of Dixon, appeared before Judge George C. Dixon in the Lee county Circuit Court today with a petition for probation. Blackburn is represented by Atty. Edward Jones.

State's Attorney Morey Pires opposed the petition for the state. Numerous witnesses had been called up to noon.

One of the principal points of contention seemed to be the status of young Blackburn as regards his right to drive a car. He had been ordered some time previously by Judge Grover Gehant in Lee County court to refrain from driving but the license revocation apparently had not gone so far

Miss Ethel Price and Sydney Sinow Wed at Chicago

The Chicago Beach hotel was the scene of a simple wedding ceremony on Tuesday afternoon, in which Miss Ethel Price, daughter of the Samuel Prices of Chicago, became the bride of Sidney F. Sinow, second son of the Jacob Sinows of 504 Brinton avenue. Rabbi Teller heard the couple's vows at 5:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Marvin Berger of Chicago was matron of honor for her sister, and Garland Sinow of Dixon served his brother as best man.

The bride chose a street dress of powder blue silk and a hat of white straw lace with a blue veil for her wedding attire. Her corsage contained all-white flowers, and her only jewelry was a diamond lavalier that the bridegroom's father gave his mother at his birth.

An all-beige ensemble, accented by a corsage of red carnations, was worn by Mrs. Berger. Mrs. Price was wearing dusty rose with navy blue accessories, and Mrs. Sinow, mother of the bridegroom, was attired in bark and beige, with matching accessories. Their shoulder corsages contained gardenias.

A wedding dinner was served at the Chicago Beach hotel for a dozen guests.

After a week's wedding trip to Eagle River, Wis., the couple will be at home in Chicago.

The bride, a talented musician, is a piano student in Chicago. Sidney, a Dixon high school graduate, received a master's degree a year ago from the University of Illinois, where his fraternity was Tau Delta Phi. He is now with the Keeshin Motor company in Chicago.

Attending Tuesday's wedding from Dixon were Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Sinow and son Garland, and the Louis Sinows.

Legion Auxiliary Units Have Picnic

Three new council officers were installed, including Mrs. Oscar Berga of Amboy, secretary; Mrs. John Haas of Amboy, sergeant-at-arms; and Mrs. William Wagner of Dixon, historian. Mrs. John Brasel of Lee Center acted as installing officer, assisted by Mrs. Marie Hettler of Dixon, sergeant-at-arms.

It was agreed to donate $5 to the USO and an additional $5 to purchase cigarettes for ex-service men at the Dixon State hospital.

Members of the hostess unit reviewed the history of Lee Center. The program also included a flag drill and song, "America," by nine Lee Center school children.

The Dixon unit is to entertain at the next meeting, to be held in October.

WALTER HITZEMANN WEDS AT KNOXVILLE

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Charlotte Johnson of Knoxville, Ill., and Walter E. Hitzemann of Dixon formerly of Freeport, which was solemnized Tuesday at Knoxville. The bride's brother-in-law, the Rev. C. A. Brostrom of White Bear Lake, Minn., read the service at Knoxville's Lutheran church.

Mrs. Hitzemann is a graduate nurse. Mr. Hitzemann is sales representative for the Rockford area of the Shell Oil company. After their return from a wedding trip, the couple will reside in Dixon.

FROM TEXAS

Gambrel-Abbott Bridal Is Read at Three Rivers

Miss Helen Mae Abbott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Abbott of Three Rivers, Mich., and Dr. Paul T. Gambrel, son of Dr. and Mrs. F. T. Gambrel of Byron, were married in a noon wedding Tuesday in the chapel of the Presbyterian church at Three Rivers. An arch of ferns and June lilies decorated the candlelit chapel for the nuptial service.

The bride selected white accessories for her pastel blue suit, and her shoulder corsage contained pink roses and swansonia. Her sister, Mrs. Dwight Finger, as matron of honor, chose eggshell crepe, with a front panel of beige and aqua. Her accessories were white, and she pinned a spray of Talisman roses to the shoulder of her dress.

Maurice J. Gambrel was best man for his brother, Miss Patty Lou Finger, niece of the bride, was the nuptial musician.

A wedding breakfast at Riche-lieu lodge on Corey lake in Michigan followed the ceremony. Appointments were bouquets of June lilies, sweet peas and delphinium.

Mrs. Abbott was dressed in navy sheer with white accents, and the bridegroom's mother chose light blue print. Both had shoulder bouquets of white roses.

Dr. Gambrel and his bride are taking a wedding trip through Wisconsin. After July 1 they will be at home in Winnebago, where the bridegroom will be in general veterinary practice.

Mrs. Gambrel was graduated from Three Rivers high school and from Michigan State college at East Lansing. The bridegroom is a graduate of Byron high school and of Michigan State college.

Out of town guests attending the wedding included the bridegroom's parents, Maurice Gambrel, and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Snyder, all of Byron.

Pecan was an Indian name for any hard-shelled nut.

RESIGNS

Miss Mary Trombold, director of Dixon's summer playgrounds for the past two seasons, is announcing her resignation, and is to be succeeded by Miss Olive Palmer, Milwaukee faculty member, who recently organized a dramatic school here as an additional playground project.

Miss Hazel Hecker, Dixon grade school teacher, has also been added to the playground staff. Miss Trombold's approaching marriage to Officer's Candidate John Dixon was announced recently.

CHICAGO GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Keller and their little daughter, Bonnie Jean, will return to their home in Chicago during the weekend, after a visit with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. L. A. Lazier. The Kellers and Laziers returned Tuesday from a vacation trip to Estes national park, where the Laziers' son and daughter-in-law, the Harry Laziers of Denver, were also vacationing.

Boy Scout News

Troop No. 85 Boy Scouts of America assisted in the campaign for scrap rubber and metal, by devoting an afternoon last week to visiting certain places on the north side of the river where scrap material has accumulated. Several hundred pounds of material was salvaged and sold. The money will be used to help with the camping expenses of the troop. Another day is to be spent in similar work next week. Any persons having scrap material for the troop should notify the scoutmaster, Rev. R. S. Wilson. The troop meets each Thursday evening at 7 p. m. at Bethel U. E. church on the northside.

"Reynoldswood" Is Scene of Barbecue; 125 Are Present

Always an occasion looked forward to and well remembered from year to year is the barbecue given for foremen and office employees of the Reynolds Wire company, their wives and husbands, at "Reynoldswood," the beautiful hilltop estate of the company's president, Mrs. John Gould Ralston. Deep beds of embers were glowing in the huge barbecue pits last evening, and the tempting aroma of sizzling beef and pork greeted the huge company of guests as long line of automobiles moved upward along the curving, three-bordered drives.

Last evening's party, attended by approximately 125 guests, moved indoors, because of June showers that fell intermittently throughout the afternoon and continued during the early evening. This year's guest list was somewhat longer than formerly, because of the advancement of several employees, and the addition of office and mechanical department personnel.

The furniture in the huge living room was rearranged to give way for three long supper tables. Craft paper, edged with the sunburst trademark of the Reynolds company in red, covered the table lengths, and nearby were great vases of regal lilies and other flowers from the "Reynoldswood" gardens.

Because of the rain, the usual sports program of horse shoe pitching, tennis, and other outdoor pastimes was omitted. Following the supper, short talks were made by various members of the executive personnel and foremen, with L. G. MacDonald presiding as toastmaster. The speakers also included Mrs. Ralston and her sister, Mrs. Emerson Whitthorne of New York City, vice president of the company, and the latter's son, Douglas Harvey, Jr.

Douglas, a student at St. George's, Newport, R. I., discussed the war efforts of the school. A full staff of student guards, elected for the honor by merit, stand "alert" night and day in a watch tower overlooking the huge naval base to sight enemy craft that might approach by sea or air.

In lighter vein, Douglas also entertained with a series of clever impersonations. Another special treat on the evening's program was a group of vocal solos by Mrs. Ralston's debutante daughter, Joan, playing her own accompaniments. Joan, whose coming out party took place earlier this month at the Saddle and Cycle club in Chicago, was graduated this year from Spence school, where she majored in music, and two of her selections last evening, "I'm Bewildered" and "Love Passed Me By," were her own compositions.

Later, there were short skits, both humorous and musical, by Joan and her sister, Lucile, Douglas, and two of Joan's house guests from Chicago, Miss Nancy Underwood and Donald Freeman.

Moving pictures, assembled over a period of years by a commercial film company, presented the complete factory operation at the wire company, from rods to the finished product on the merchants' shelves. Travel pictures of the far north were also shown.

GUEST ORGANIST

Numerous Dixon radios will be tuned to tomorrow evening's "Truth and Consequence" program, for which Corp. Wilson Orgtisen, son of the Bert Orgtisen, has been asked to appear as guest organist. The program is to originate at Camp J. T. Robinson, Little Rock, Arkansas, and will be heard from station WMAQ at 7:30 o'clock. Wilson was heard regularly in organ recitals from WEBM, before his induction last January. He is organist for chapel services at Camp Robinson.

A Thought for Today

The Lord God is a sun and shield; the Lord will give grace and glory; no good thing will be withheld from them that walk uprightly.—Psalms 48:11.

Behind the dim unknown, standeth God within the shadow, keeping watch above his own.—Lowell.

More Fronts Needed

Word that the United States and Britain are determined to open up a second front, a third or even a fourth front against the axis shows that the administration is beginning to get a conception of what has been termed "global war."

Presumably there are two fronts now. One is being held by the Russians, and whatever British pressure remains in Egypt could be called a second front. In case of a landing on the coast of France, that would constitute a third front. To apply a bit of pressure against Italy, which is ripe for some attention if it can be delivered, would make a fourth front. Such a concentration of power would give Germany something serious to handle.

But it would not bother Japan. Amateur strategians believe General MacArthur will collect men and supplies in Australia, and make a drive northward through the Indies. This would be a fifth front, not counting the vast, flexible and potent front maintained by China—making a total of six fronts against Italy, Germany and Japan.

The coast of Norway is not much farther from Britain than it is from Germany's jumping-off place. If the British and Americans could land men and establish a bridgehead there, the axis would have seven fronts to defend. If Sweden were to give way and permit troops to cross that country—as Germany once was permitted to do, something could be done to enter Finland and get around to make a juncture with the Russians, thus enlarging one important front considerably and knocking the doughty Finns out of Hitler's arms—a thing which many Finns might be glad to have happen.

This strategy, if it can be called such, would be condemned by some as a scattering of power. Military experts would decide whether or not it would cause the axis to scatter likewise, and whether we could afford more scattering than the axis.

To those who have been talking about dark days it may be comforting to know that American industry is producing not only munitions, but brighter days.

Look at the bright side! Supposing you had to mow your lawn before cutting it!

SERIAL STORY

SPECIAL INVESTIGATOR

BY BLANCHE ROBERTS

COPYRIGHT, 1942,
NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Judith Kingly and Tom Burke, employees of an airplane factory, are en route to the factory's west coast branch—Judith to investigate a "leak" in the organization, Tom to take the plane of a new bomber. Tom and Judith are in love, but have been separated. About an officer Judith sees two men watching Tom suspiciously. At a stop for supper she tells him to watch out for them. As they are about to take off again, Judith hears the hostess say they are changing co-pilots.

SKYWAY HOLDUP

CHAPTER III

JUDITH noticed most of the passengers were nodding in sleep except Tom, the foreigner and the large man in front of her. Everything was peaceful, with nothing to substantiate her fears.

Then suddenly the plane rocked and her spine grew rigid with fright. Everybody on the ship came awake instantly. Someone screamed. The hostess came running through the aisle.

"Fasten your safety belts, please," she urged, her voice calm. She hurried to the front of the plane, but when she tried to turn the handle of the control room door it was locked. She turned to face the frightened passengers, but just as she opened her mouth to speak, the plane leveled into smooth flying again.

Then a man exclaimed: "Why, we're landing!"

"I believe so," smiled the girl in the uniform, trying to ease the tension. "Please be calm. I am sure everything is all right. Forced landings are not uncommon."

Judith glanced at a glance at Burke. He was sitting erect, his right hand hidden beneath his coat. The foreigner, too, was waiting expectantly. She shifted her gaze quickly to the man in front of her, and as she did so, he stood up. "Her heart rose in her throat. "You heard the lady?" he roared gruffly. "Take it easy. Just a forced landing." He backed toward the control room, ignoring the pleas of the hostess to return to his seat. When he stood with his back against the closed door, he drew a gun. There were gasps of terror. A woman screamed and wilted in her seat but no one made a move to help her.

As the plane wheels hit the earth, Judith opened her purse and her cold fingers closed about the little gun she always carried when she traveled. Until now she had never used it.

"Good work, Heavy," he said to

THE big liner rolled to a bumpy stop and the door to the control room opened. The co-pilot stepped out. His eyes darted over the people

"Good work, Heavy," he said to

"Good work, Heavy," he said to the man with the gun. He strode down the aisle and disappeared through the door.

Judith's eyes were fastened on the foreigner. He was the one she feared most, but so far he had made no move. He sat very straight in his seat, his eyes fixed on Tom. An electrified excitement that she had never felt before enveloped Judith.

She saw a light flare from the outside at a distance and draw nearer. While she watched it approach, she wondered how she could get off the plane and follow if the men only took Tom with them.

Judith drew on her courage and said brightly, "This is very exciting."

Heavy, the man behind the gun, grinned at her while the passengers turned and glared. When Tom Burke looked at her, there was a light of understanding in his glance.

The co-pilot put his head in at the door.

"All right, Karl!"

Instantly, the foreigner came alive and stood up, an ugly gun in his hand covering Burke from the back.

"Come along," he ordered curtly, nudging Tom with the point of the pistol.

Burke stood up. As he moved down the narrow aisle he bumped Judith's seat. A packet of papers slid quickly and noiselessly from his right sleeve and dropped beside her. Swiftly she shifted her arm to cover the bundle and Burke walked on to the door with the foreigner behind him.

Little prickles stung at Judith's skin as she realized she had the plans of the bomber in her possession.

Heavy waved his gun and moved down toward the outside door. "Don't anybody move," he warned, pausing at the door. "I ain't minding to pull this trigger. And don't get off this plane until morning if you value your health."

In another moment, he dropped to the ground and slammed the door. A car roared off.

The hostess was the first to come alive. She jumped up, ran to the pilot's compartment and pulled back the door. There was a horrified gasp from her as she dropped to her knees. Two men rushed up behind her.

One of them said, "Here—let me in. I'm a doctor."

The door closed after them. But almost immediately it opened again and the hostess came out.

"The pilot has been hurt. We are trying to use the radio. I am afraid we will have to make the best of the situation. I'll try to make you comfortable."

Hoarded Silver

Out of Washington comes word that we are risking power shortages, which would slow down war production, because we can not spare copper from munitions for use in electricity installations.

The power shortages are problematical. They lie somewhere in the future. We may get by without increased power facilities. But we can not get by without shells for our soldiers and those of our allies.

Under such circumstances few will question the War Production Board's decision to take the shells now and worry about electricity later, if we have to.

But what burns up the WPB, and most others who know the facts, is this:

There is no need to risk having to shut down vital war plants for lack of power. We could have munitions and also plenty of electricity, if we put on the pressure.

The Treasury now possesses 120,000 tons of silver. There is being produced in the United States 2,000 tons of silver each year. This could be used to assure the electricity we may need badly before long.

Silver is one of three metals particularly suitable for use as a conductor of electricity. One is copper—which is so scarce we can not spare it from direct war material. One is aluminum—which is so necessary for planes that we have used vital steel to build plants to multiply our aluminum output.

The third is silver, of which 120,000 tons lie idle in Treasury vaults and 2,000 more tons are added annually.

Some idle silver has been released to replace copper in electric power busbars and transformers. Donald Nelson is trying to obtain another 37,000 tons, on condition that after the war it shall be returned to Treasury vaults.

Why must we go through all this rigmarole in order to persuade the Treasury to permit the use of silver to help win the war? Because that's the law.

On the open market silver is worth 35 cents a troy ounce. The Treasury is required, however, to take all that is offered from domestic mines at 71 cents an ounce, regardless of the market, or up to $1.29 if, by some miracle, the market price were to exceed 71 cents. Naturally, domestic silver goes to the Treasury, not to industry.

The Treasury is forbidden to sell silver, for any purpose, for less than $1.29 for each troy ounce.

So, willy nilly, while we risk the disaster a real power shortage might bring, the Treasury hoards enough silver to relieve the danger. Nothing can be done unless Congress is willing to override the silver bloc's bitter-end opposition.

That, briefly, is the tragedy of silver.

Can Opener

The War Production Board will get enthusiastic support from husbands in its campaign against the can opener.

The WPB's interest is in saving tin, now used for cans, by promoting the use of perishable fruits and vegetables in season; the cellar storage of such foods as can be kept that way; and home canning as a supplement to these.

Husbands, remembering the foods mother used to can, will find self-denial easy to take, in this particular at least.

A psychologist claims men are less subtle liars than women. He should drop in at a golf club locker room.

Washington, June 25—The house banking and currency committee has been in a state of stupefaction since hearing recent testimony by Federal Reserve Chairman Eccles.

He announced officially and persistently that our gold reserves have nothing whatever to do with the value of our currency, that we are completely off the gold standard.

If there was stupefaction in Congress, there must have been confusion fits around the treasury at such a plain official suggestion that the gold (and silver?) buying policy was a flop, that the value of the dollar is really only what the government says it is.

Rep. Frederick Smith, an Ohio Republican, led Eccles up to the subject, suggesting that the country is getting near fiat money; that the war might cost 300 billion dollars; that even if the cost only gets up to 200 billion (approximately already have reached 208 billion dollars) the question of the gold reserve becomes important.

"No," said Eccles, "there was a feeling that by increasing the price of gold, you recall, that the increase would be immediately reflected in increasing the price of goods. Well, of course, that, we all know, didn't work, so I say the question of the gold reserve doesn't have any relationship to the stability of value of the currency."

Smith: "Either bank currency or circulating currency?"

Eccles: "No, I don't think so."

Smith: "What, then, is the fundamental principle of the federal reserve banking act?"

Eccles: "Well, it isn't that."

Smith was obviously flabbergasted. He pleaded:

"I don't believe you want to go on record as saying that. I don't believe you want to do that."

Eccles: "That is right, yes, I do." Then later on: "I do deny that the amount of the gold reserve, or the gold requirements have anything to do with the price level, which means they have nothing to do with the value of currency."

Smith: "Aren't you, in effect, saying there is no relation whatever of gold in this country to our currency?"

Eccles: "That is right."

Smith: "There is no relation whatever?"

Eccles: "That is right."

Smith: "You then take the attitude we are completely off the gold standard?"

Eccles: "Yes, completely."

Smith: "I am rather astonished. It makes no difference then whether we have an ounce of gold or whether we have 700,000,000 ounces?"

Eccles: "It has made no difference to Russia for 20 years; no difference to Germany for a long while. Most of the countries of Europe had to give up the idea of the gold reserve. Their currencies have gone into managed currencies. . . . The Russians have mined gold as a commodity to sell to the democracies and get foods that they wanted to get and they have not looked upon gold as a necessary item to support their currency."

In other words, gold is good for teeth and for selling to Morgenthau at the arbitrarily inflated figure of $35 an ounce, not much otherwise.

Morgenthau is sitting on the world's largest amassed pile of it, and there is nothing he can do with it, except to increase the problem of buying some more from Britain or Russia, which means giving away public money for gold.

Thus has the cut from old ties now been officially conceded for the first time by the head of the banking system. Eccles has merely recognized the obvious effects of administration policy, which any reader of this column will recall having read from time to time for years back.

The important point is that it is now official. No one can be accused of being against the administration for saying the policy was a failure.

The value of currency, it appears, is not in the hands of Eccles or Morgenthau, but in the hands of Leon Henderson. When you read the prices of food in your grocery, you will find out the real value of the dollar these days.

What this portends for post-war policies, domestic and international, cannot be foretold yet, but they are all rooted in the basic gold theory.

Certainly this seems to mark an official end of the new deal era of grand mechanical economic formulas to control prices indirectly by taxation, by the Warren theory, by gold or silver.

JOHN W. GARRETT

Baltimore, June 26 (AP)—John W. Garrett, United States ambassador to Italy from 1929 to 1933, died early today at his home in suburban Baltimore.

Garrett, who was 70 last month, had been in failing health for a year. His condition became critical several weeks ago. Born in Baltimore, May 19, 1872 he was the grandson of John W. Garrett, one of the original backers of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad and one of its early presidents.

A career diplomat of independent means, Garrett served variously as secretary to the embassies in the Hague, Berlin and Rome and as minister to Venezuela, Argentina and Holland.

He served as chairman of a commission which negotiated an agreement between the United States and Germany on treatment of prisoners of the World War.

A bit of diplomatic acumen while Garrett was in his first post at The Hague attracted the attention of the state department and put him in line for promotion. For years Holland and the grand duchy of Luxembourg had been under the same ruler and one set of diplomatic credentials served for both. But when King William of Holland died in 1890 with Princess Wilhelmina as his sole heir, the duchy reverted to a collateral male line.

Garrett brought this situation to the attention of the Washington authorities with the result that Stanford Newell, then minister to the Netherlands, was named also as minister to Luxembourg, thus correcting an oversight which had lasted 11 years. He was transferred to The Hague in 1901-5, then moved to Berlin as second secretary. Coincidentally with his marriage in 1908 he was promoted to first secretary and assigned to Rome. There he established himself as a close friend of the Italian government and was renewed years later when he returned as ambassador.

Wins Post Under Wilson

His next step was appointment as minister to Venezuela, a post which he held from December, 1910, to November, 1911. Then he was transferred to Buenos Aires as minister to Argentina. Three years later when the World War was about to burst in Europe he applied for a post in the Old World.

While he was officially a career minister he was a Republican in domestic politics and he encountered considerable opposition from several officials in the Democratic administration of that time, notably from William Jennings Bryan, secretary of state. But he had the friendship of President Wilson under whom he had studied at Princeton, and his desire for war work was fulfilled. He arrived in the United States 48 hours after the war started, and was in Washington and within 48 hours was eastward bound on the Atlantic.

When he arrived in Plymouth, England, he began to encounter difficulties. Cross-channel service had been suspended upon the outbreak of hostilities but he managed to get aboard a British army transport and reached France. Reporting to the American ambassador at Paris, he was ordered to Switzerland where 5,000 Americans had been stranded by the start of hostilities. Banks were closed, their letters of credit were not recognized and there was no way for them to obtain transportation home.

Wearing two money bags filled with $20 gold pieces, Garrett went to San Moritz and arranged credit and transportation for all of the refugees. Then he returned to Paris.

Runs Intelligence Service in Holland

Prison camp work thereafter kept him busy until the United States changed from neutrality to belligerency in April, 1917. The following August he went to The Hague as minister of the legation in which he had started his diplomatic work.

Besides representing the United States in the neutral state of Holland, he developed an intelligence organization which collected much information regarding Germany and the Germans in the later stages of the war. This information was dispatched to Washington via England only with much difficulty. The rumblings of the guns on the coast of Belgium could be heard at times in The Hague and the North Sea was infested with mines.

British ships which sailed at a moment's notice constituted the only connection with the outside world which could be used without presuming upon Holland's neutrality. Young marine "non-coms" usually were used as messengers to London, but Garrett made the trip twice himself and saw mines bobbing on the water as the ship passed.

Another war assignment was his chairmanship of the commission to negotiate an agreement with Germany concerning the treatment, pay, medical care and exchange of prisoners of war. Others on the commission were John W. Davis, later ambassador to Great Britain and Democratic candidate for president, General F. J. Kernan, U. S. A., and Captain Henry H. Hough, U. S. N.

Cross-Table Talk Barred

For seven weeks they met with German representatives at Berne, Switzerland, the two delegations facing each other across a long table. But there was no conversation across this board. All the remarks were addressed to the presiding officer, a Swiss, and he relayed them to the negotiators on the opposite side of the table. The agreement finally reached the signing November 11, 1918, just as the guns were silenced by the armistice.

Garrett remained at The Hague until the following August when he resigned from the foreign service.

His experiences abroad included a number of special assignments to negotiate commissions besides the one with the Germans at Berne. At The Hague he was engaged in arbitration proceedings in 1902, and of the arbitral tribunal which dealt with the Venezuela preferential treatment case in 1903-4. He also was a delegate to the conference which in 1904 negotiated an international hospital ship pact.

As legation and embassy secretary he was 11 times charge d'affaires at The Hague, 7 times at Luxembourg, 3 at Berlin and 4 at Rome.

Turning from international affairs to domestic politics after the World War, he made his unsuccessful bid for the Republican nomination for United States senator and attended the national Republican convention at Chicago in 1920 as a Maryland delegate at large. He was at the 1924 convention of his party in Cleveland in the same capacity.

One of the most pleasant periods of his life was his ambassadorship to Rome from September, 1929 until shortly after the inauguration of the Democratic administration of Franklin D. Roosevelt. He and Mrs. Garrett did much in that period to strengthen the artistic and cultural bonds between Italy and the United States and at the end of the term Ambassador Garrett was accorded the unusual honor of being banqueted personally by Premier Mussolini.

Home Brilliant Social Center

In the spacious and well-stocked library started by his father and added to by him, the ex-envoy found much comfort. Rare books were on its shelves and a valuable collection of coins in nearby cases. His art collection included many old masters and it was unexpectedly enriched in April, 1933, when an unpublished drawing by Rembrandt was found by cataloguers in a collection of sketches which Garrett and his brother Robert had loaned to the Baltimore Art Museum.

The city grew around and beyond the Garrett home until it evolved from a country estate to a mansion on Charles Street Avenue. The stately, yellow house was, however, almost hidden from the street by a well-kept green lawn and an ornamental iron and stone fence. Within its grounds was a little theater where the Garretts often entertained Baltimore society and diplomats from Washington with concerts and plays. One notable gathering at "Evergreen" was in honor of Dino Grandi, foreign minister of Italy, when he visited President Hoover in 1931.

Garrett was tall and stately, wore a closely-trimmed beard and mustache and dressed informally. He had a habit of making callers feel at ease and was himself thoroughly at home in all circles.

In his later years he walked with a cane. An injury suffered in his youth was aggravated in November, 1931, when he tripped on a rug in his home and broke a bone in his foot while he was on furlough from his Italian post.

WILMA V. MAXWELL

Sterling—Miss Wilma Virjean Maxwell, 22, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Maxwell of 712 Woodburn avenue, passed away at 6:15 p. m. Wednesday at the Katherine Shaw Betha hospital, Dixon, from a complication of diseases. She had been ill for the past seven weeks and Monday afternoon was removed to the hospital for treatment.

Funeral rites were held this afternoon at 1:30 in the Melvin funeral home for the family, and 2 o'clock in St. John's Lutheran church. The Rev. A. H. Keck, Jr., officiated and interment was in Riverside cemetery.

Miss Maxwell was born Sept. 20, 1920, on a farm south of Stone's Station in Lee county. She graduated from Sterling Township high school in 1938. For the past two years she had been employed at the Walgreen Co. and prior to that time at Johnson's tea room.

Besides her parents she leaves one sister, Mrs. Robert Clark and one nephew, Bobby Don Clark of Sterling; also her grandfather, S. H. Gipe of Coleta; one uncle, Arthur Maxwell of Sterling and a great aunt, Mrs. George Maxwell of Venice, Calif., widow of the late Dr. George Maxwell of this city.

MISS FANNIE MOSELEY

Princeton—Miss Fannie Moseley, 80, member of a pioneer Bureau county family, died in Perry Memorial hospital Wednesday where she had been a patient the past few days.

Born in Princeton township Oct. 25, 1861, Miss Moseley spent her entire life in this community. She received her education in the Princeton schools, and has been active in all civic organizations of the city.

A charter member of the Princeton chapter of the D. A. R., Miss Moseley was active in its various projects. She was a faithful member of the Campshire Colony Congregational church and also a member of the Friends in Council, an exclusive group of women who meet each week for study and improvement.

Funeral services were held today at 2 p. m. from the late home, 922 Euclid ave., with Rev. E. B. Cushing, Princeton, officiating. Burial was in Oakland cemetery. Miss Moseley's pastor, Rev. A. B. Lemke of the Congregational church is vacationing in the east.

Funerals

Local—

MRS. ELBERT FULMER

The funeral of Mrs. Elbert L. Fulmer, whose untimely and sudden death at the Katherine Shaw Betha hospital Thursday morning was announced in last evening's Telegraph, will be held at the Staples funeral home at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon. The Rev. R. S. Wilson, pastor of Bethel United Evangelical church, will officiate and burial will be in Oakwood cemetery, where members of Anna Kellogg Baker tent Daughters of Union Veterans, of which Mrs. Fulmer was a past president, will have charge of the services. Friends may call at the funeral home until the hour of the funeral.

Mrs. Fulmer will be greatly missed in the patriotic organization the members of which will lay her to rest and her death has created a lasting void in her home, in which centered her interest. Her joyful personality endeared her to all who knew her and their sincerest sympathy is extended the bereaved family.

FRANK BUZARD

Frank Buzard, son of Lawson and Susan Rober Buzard, was born at Harmon, Illinois, July 18, 1876, and departed from this life June 19, 1942 at the age of 65 years, 11 months and 1 day. He spent his entire life in this community with the exception of three years in Minnesota and two years in Kansas. He followed the vocation of farming until ill health forced him to retire about three years ago.

He was united in marriage with Myrtle Ringler, daughter of Harrison and Sarah Hogle Ringer on Sept. 10, 1902. To this union were born six children as follows: Harry, Glen, Kenneth and Marion (Mrs. J. Austin Smith) of Dixon, Goldie (Mrs. Dale Cooper) of Prophetstown, and Marjorie (Mrs. J. W. Shaw Printing Company. If Clifford King) of Monroe Center, Illinois, who with his widow survive his passing. He is also survived by four brothers—Columbus of Dixon, David of Walnut, Avery of Herford, Arizona, and Clarence of Pasadena, Calif., and three sisters: Mrs. Edith Rorer of Waukegan, Mrs. Amelia Crichton and Mrs. Mary Babcock of Ft. William, Ontario, Canada; four grandchildren and many other relatives and friends. Two brothers and one sister preceded him in death.

Last October he became seriously ill and was bedfast until six weeks before his death when he appeared to be gaining in strength daily until last Friday when he was suddenly stricken.

He was a very patient sufferer and devoted to his family who with a host of friends will greatly miss his presence in their midst.

PASSEAU, ED SMITH NAMED TO ALL-STAR TEAMS

IS ONLY CUB APPOINTED TO PLAY, JULY 6

National League Managers Choose 7 Dodgers, 5 Cardinals

New York, June 26—(AP)—The National league announced a strong All-Star squad today with seven of the Brooklyn Dodgers in the cast that will face the American league's best at the Polo Grounds July 6.

The selections of the eight managers of the senior circuit included some surprises—such as the choice of catcher Walker Cooper of the St. Louis Cardinals and rookie outfielder Willard Marshall of the New York Giants while passing up infielders Stan Hack of the Chicago Cubs and Billy Jurges of the Giants—but the strength of the squad could not be questioned.

Camilli, Walker Miss

Manager Leo Durocher of the Dodgers, who will lead this year's National league array by virtue of winning last year's pennant, will have all of his own regulars in the fold except first baseman Dolph Camilli and outfielder Dixie Walker.

Camilli, last year's most valuable player and leading home run slugger, has been far below par in batting this season although still among the home run leaders. The first basemen chosen were big John Mize of the Giants and Frank McCormick of the Cincinnati Reds.

Next most numerous among the selections were the Cardinals with five men, headed by the brothers Cooper—pitcher Morton and catcher Walker—plus infielder Jimmy Brown and outfielders Terry Moore and Enos Slaughter.

Ray Starr Ignored

The mound staff will be dominated by Cincinnati with Paul Derringer, Bucky Walters and Johnny Vander Meer all named, but there may be some eyebrows lifted at the selection of Derringer, with three victories and four defeats, while ignoring rookie Ray Starr of the same team, who has won 10 while losing only three.

The necessity of awarding at least one position to every club in the league likely caused the choice of Bob Elliott over the veteran Hack of the Cubs, who has been on three of the last four teams and who is outitting the Pittsburgher by several points.

Three of the players—Ott, Medwick and Herman—have been on every All-Star squad since 1934, missing only the inaugural game at Chicago in 1935. Seven others are on the team for the first time—the Coopers, Brown, Melton, Marshall, Reese and Lithwhaler.

McKeehle, Frisch Chose

Durocher chose Manager Bill McKeehle of Cincinnati and Manager Frank Frisch of Pittsburgh for his coaches and later will name a batting practice pitcher and catcher and a trainer.

The complete squad in the order chosen by the league:

Pitchers—Morton Cooper, St. Louis; Whitlow Wyatt, Brooklyn; Claude Passeau, Chicago; John Vander Meer, Paul Derringer and William Walters, Cincinnati; Clifford Melton, New York.

Catchers—Arnold Owen, Brooklyn; Walter Cooper, St. Louis; Ernest Lombardi, Boston.

TROUT RELEASED IN WHITESIDE STREAMS

About ten thousand brown trout fingerlings have been placed in a number of Whiteside county streams. The fish were purchased at the federal hatchery at Manchester, Iowa and were released in the Stapleton pond, Catal creek in Utick, Scotch brook in Mt. Pleasant, French creek in Hopkins and Spring creek in Hume township.

This is the second shipment of trout to be received in Whiteside as last year some were placed in Coon creek near Prophetstown.

The Whiteside sportsmen have just received 750 pheasants from the state hatchery. The birds are now being cared for at the sportsmen's park in Unionville until they are large enough to be placed in the rearing pens. They will be liberated some time this summer.

"VETERANS" TO PLAY KIDS IN GAMES TODAY

Chicago, June 26—(AP)—"It doesn't seem quite fair," said Marjorie Row of Detroit, one of the semi-finalists in the Women's Western Open Golf tournament. "Just because I'm playing a 17-year-old today, and just because Betty Jameson is playing one of 18, we're being called veterans."

"I'm only 20, and Betty is only 24."

Marjorie opposed Phyllis Otto of Atlantic, Iowa, and Betty faced Jeanne Cline of Bloomington, Ill. in today's next-to-last round over the Elmhurst course.

Otto Is Youngest

Miss Otto, youngest survivor in the six-day tournament, is as much entitled to the name of veteran as any of the others. She's been at it seriously since the age of 12, when a mastoid operation forced her to give up her favorite sport—swimming—and turn to golf.

She's been in five Iowa State tournaments, won the event two years ago and was a semi-finalist last year. She qualified for the National meet once and the Western Junior four times.

Phyllis' victory in yesterday's quarter finals was by a 3 and 2 margin over Sallie Sessions of Muskegon, Mich. Miss Row defeated Virginia Ingram, Winnetka, Ill., 2 and 1, and Miss Jameson was hard pressed to stop Dorothy Foster of Springfield, Ill., 2 up.

Miss Cline reached the high point of her young career by gaining the Western Open semi-finals at the expense of Dorothy Kirby, former southern champion from Atlanta, Ga., whom she beat 2 and 1.

Greenberg Not to Play With Service Stars

Miami Beach, Fla., June 26—(AP)—Army officers said today Hank Greenberg would be too busy at his duties in the air corps officer candidate school to play July 7 in Cleveland in the baseball game between service stars and a big league all-star team. Greenberg received an invitation and the air corps command a request that he play in the game, but the Detroit batsman did not ask for leave. He is engaged in an intensive 12 week course.

Waner Is Vegetarian for Month

Boston—It's about time for Paul Waner, veteran Boston Brave outfielder who recently made his 3,000th hit, to go on his special diet. Rounding out his 17th major league season, Waner eschews meat, living on salads and milk, and, if he feels like it, beer for breakfast for one month each summer.

"Been doing it for years," he says, "and it's helped me keep my weight down and stay up here. You know, I've never been more than two pounds away from 156 pounds since I've been in the big league."

UNKNOWNNS MEET IN SEMIFINALS

Holstrom Upsets Defending Champion, Earl Stewart, 5-4

South Bend, Ind., June 26—(AP)—The National Intercollegiate Golf tournament has simmered down to its most colorful semifinals in a 45-year history.

With Earl Stewart of Louisiana State, the defending champ, and Ray Brownell of Stanford, last year's runner up, upset yesterday, four comparative unknowns were free to romp over the Chain O' Lakes links in a wide open chase for the championship, which will be decided tomorrow in a 36-hole playoff.

The semi-finalists included: (1) Manuel de la Torre, Northwestern sophomore, born in Madrid, Spain, where his father, Angel de la Torre, now an assistant professional at a Chicago club, was pro at the Royal Madrid Country club.

(2) Harold Gjorne of the University of Washington, winner of the National Intercollegiate Skiing championship two years ago and son of Reidar Gjorne of Norway, a renowned skiing champ back in the early 1900's.

Gave Exhibitions (3) Frank Tatum, Jr., valedictorian of Stanford's senior class, who organized golf exhibitions to get enough money so the Stanford team could come here.

(4) Bob Kuntz of Yale, former winner of the New York Metropolitan junior title whose older brother Bill was eliminated yesterday.

Kuntz was paired against de la Torre and Gjorne against Tatum today.

In yesterday's rounds, John Holstrom of the University of Illinois scored an upset victory over defending champion Earl Stewart of Louisiana State University. Holstrom was four under par when the match ended and lost only two holes for his 5 and 4 win. However, in the next round when he came up against Bill Kuntz his putter failed him and his shots began catching in the rough. Kuntz shot par golf all the way to eliminate him 3 and 2.

SPORTSMENTION

When the Norfolk Piedmont league club jumped from Asheville, N. C., to Greenville last week, Manager Buzz Boyle and several of his players had to stand up in the bus all the way. In Morristown, Tenn., Fred Hartman runs a mail route, sits in court as a judge, owns a farm, a filling station and a restaurant and is business manager and right fielder for Newport in the Appalachian league.

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE Clark Shaughnessy is in Chicago waiting for George Halas to get out of the hospital, so they can start overhauling the "T" formation. Remus, the largest trotting horse in training, is owned jointly by Harry Short, Paul Bowser and W. R. Dickerson. "Three men on a horse, but what a horse!" suggests Johnny Jones of the Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Saratogian.

HOLES-IN-ONE ARE DENTISTS' SPECIAL SHOT

If you want to get ahead in the golfing profession, the secret is to join the profession of dentistry.

In the twenty-year history of the Lincoln Highway Golf Association's annual tournament, it is estimated that about 90,000 shots have been played; two of them have been holes-in-one. Both aces have been shot by dentists!

The two distinguished golfers are Doc Markle, Sr., of Polo and Dr. H. A. Lazier of Dixon. Markle was the first to perform this signal feat when on July 14, 1932, playing with the Edgewood Country club team, he made a hole-in-one on the par 3, 156-yard, seventh hole at the Rock River club in Sterling.

Lazier entered golf's hall of fame in the next year's tournament held at the Clinton Country club. His ace was scored on the fifteenth hole which is a short (195 yds.), par 3 hole.

However, now for the punch line. A year or so later, Lazier did it again, playing in a friendly game at the Dixon Country club. He shot an ace on the fifth hole to become the first Dixon club member in recorded history to have two holes-in-one to his credit.

What has baseball turned in to date?
USO—$58,000.
Ball and bat fund—$28,000.
Four National League games for Army-Navy relief—$90,000.
Four American League games for Army-Navy Relief—$80,000.
Baseball should raise $100,000 in Each All-Star game—$200,000, plus a dollar in war stamps which each spectator at the Cleveland game must buy. This means about $75,000 additional.

How much does baseball hope to raise this season?
Army-Navy Relief games—each league $200,000—$400,000.
All-Star games—$100,000 each—$200,000.
USO—$58,000 to date—should hit $100,000.
Ball and bat fund—$28,000 to date—should hit $50,000.
That is $750,000, exclusive of minor leagues.

A traveling World Series would swell the total to $1,750,000. In addition to the good will baseball would build by taking the greatest of its spectacles to areas which have never had a world series, $1,750,000 would be fitting; logical and effective contribution for America's national pastime.

A. LEAGUERS EXPECTED TO ACCEPT PLAN

Project Would Raise an Additional Million Dollars for Relief

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Service Sports Editor

New York, June 26—National League owners and President Ford C. Frick have agreed on a 15-game, traveling World Series that would give war funds an additional million dollars.

It is expected that the less progressive American League will fall into line and that shortly before or after July 6, Commissioner Landis will definitely announce that the big road show is on. Judge Landis calls the magnates together in New York in connection with the All-Star game at the Polo Grounds, July 6, and the All-Star Service team engagement in the huge Cleveland Municipal Stadium the following night.

Majors already see their way clear toward contributing $750,000 to service funds, but National League owners wish to go considerably farther.

Say the series again is between the Yankees and Dodgers, which seems likely. The scheme is for the clubs to play two games at Ebbets Field and two at Yankee Stadium, with the gate going to the players as a reward for their getting in the series. There will, of course, be no rule against players kicking back to the funds.

Best 8 Out of 15
Setup then is for the extravaganza to go to outside cities, preferably those of the minor league variety.

Cities such as Montreal, Atlanta, Kansas City, Minneapolis and St. Paul, Los Angeles, San Francisco and Seattle would bid for dates, and the proponents of the great baseball show on earth would insist on a minimum of $100,000 a stand.

The series would be a best eight out of 15, so the sponsors are positive there would be enough of them to earn a million.

Blackburn's Plea

as to send his license to the Secretary of State.

County Court Record

State's Attorney Pires developed Donald Blackburn's past record in the County court. County Clerk Sterling Schrock was called to the stand to testify that Blackburn pleaded guilty to larceny in July, 1935 and was up for an attempt to commit larceny in February, 1941 and that he had been jailed for 30 days on a malicious mischief charge. Blackburn was granted probation at one time and then because of charges of speeding and disturbing the peace his probation period was ended. On this latter occasion, Donald Blackburn was paroled in the custody of his brother, Romeo Blackburn.

On January 28, 1942 Judge Grover Gehant ordered Donald Blackburn to surrender his driving license and not drive a car on the highways of Illinois until May 1, 1942.

Dr. Howard Edwards testified as to the injuries that caused the death of the Ball boy, such injuries including a fractured skull, fractured ribs that punctured the lungs, many lacerations, etc. The boy died the day following the accident, without regaining consciousness.

Made No Reports

On cross examination Atty. Jones drew from County Clerk Schrock the testimony that Blackburn's auto license plates were not sent to Springfield, that Romeo Blackburn was not a parole officer of the Lee County court and that so far as he knew Donald Blackburn made no reports to the Lee County court during his term of probation to Romeo Blackburn.

Charles Hintz, Dixon photographer, identified photographs he took of the scene of the accident and of the death car. The photographs showed no license plates on the car.

Oscar Johnson, garageman, testified to selling a car to Blackburn the day before the accident with the permission of the boy's mother and of advising him that he should secure license plates, which the boy agreed to do. Johnson had no knowledge of the revocation of Blackburn's license by the county court.

Harry Johnson of Swissville, whose home is near the scene of the fatal accident, told of being on his front porch when he heard the crash and of running to the scene where he helped remove the bodies of two boys, Charles Ball and Edwin Ruppert, who was not seriously injured, to the side of the road. Mr. Johnson told of the skid marks on the road, etc.

Previous testimony had indicated that the Blackburn car was on the wrong side of the road when he struck the two boys, who were riding bicycles.

Blackburn was indicted on three counts. He first pleaded not guilty and then changed his plea to guilty and is now asking probation. In opposing the plea, State's Attorney Pires called attention to the seriousness of the offense charged, which carries with it a maximum sentence of 14 years imprisonment.

sian officials and experts had been playing a significant part.

Russians in Parleys
Presidential Secretary Stephan Early said the Russians had figured in the parleys from the beginning and still did.

The Russian ambassador, Maxim Litvinoff, Roosevelt, Prime Minister Winston Churchill of Britain, and Secretary of State Hull have held "extended and most important conferences," Early said.

"The meeting with Ambassador Litvinoff," he added, "was another of the series of conferences in which over-all and detailed surveys are being made. The conferences with military, naval and air officers, meaning those of the United States, Great Britain and Russia, are taking place simultaneously."

The most recent of these conferences, Early said, was held yesterday.

This was the first time that the extent of Russian participation in the momentous parleys here had been made known.

President's Statement

The president's statement on production follows:

"We ordinarily do not release production figures because they might give aid and comfort to the enemy. I am going to give today just a few which are definitely going to give the axis just the opposite of aid and comfort. "We are well on our way towards achieving the rate of production which will bring us to our goals. "In May we produced nearly 4,000 planes and over 1,500 tanks. We also produced nearly 2,000 anti-aircraft guns. This is exclusive of anti-aircraft guns and guns to be mounted in tanks. "And here is a figure which the axis will be very happy to hear—in that one month alone we produced over 50,000 machine guns of all types—including infantry, aircraft and anti-aircraft. That does not include sub-machine guns. If we add those in, the total is well over 100,000. All these figures are only for one single month.

"While these figures give you some idea of our production accomplishments, this is no time for the American people to get over-confident. We can't rest on our oars. We need more and more, and we will make more and more. "And we must also remember that there are plenty of serious production problems ahead—particularly some serious shortages in raw materials, which are receiving closest consideration of the government and industry.

Meanwhile military experts, taking a grave view of the allied situation in North Africa, said today that the war in Europe was entering a potentially decisive phase with Germany at the point of making her long-awaited all-out drive against Russia.

The next few days, one authority said, should show whether the great battle on the Russian front has in fact already begun in the operations at Kharkov and Sevastopol or whether those were preliminary action-in-force for the main campaign which would then certainly be undertaken by the Germans with little delay.

Germany, it was generally believed here, would try for a series of successes so smashing that by next fall or winter she would be able to follow up with either an attempt at invading Britain or a negotiated peace with her foes in Europe.

The end result of either course, if successful, would be to deprive the United States and the remaining allied nations scattered over the earth of both invaluable allies and effective bases from which to strike back at the axis in Europe in 1943.

Offsetting Prospects

Offsetting this black prospect, as the nazis would have the world see it, were these considerations from the United Nations' point of view:

1. The heroic record of resistance made by the Russians in their year-old war with Germany and the predictions of officials familiar with their fighting spirit and military efficiency that they never would be defeated.
2. Prime Minister Churchill's confident assertion reported by legation here, who conferred with him and Roosevelt yesterday, that Egypt can and will be held.
3. Formal creation of a European theater of operations for the U. S. forces in Europe.
4. The fact that American and allied production is reported to have outstripped the total production of the axis powers in important weapons, especially warplanes. The problem of getting these supplies to the fighting fronts in sufficient quantities and in sufficient time despite German U-boats and bombers remains as one of the most imperative facing this country and Britain.
5. The fact that, except for her advances into the western Aleutians which are still strategically inconclusive, Japan has been thwarted in every recent attempt to crack the American-Australian position in the Pacific and has paid a costly price in ships and planes for her failures.

Pound Way Toward

Middle East.

"If Egypt goes, our control of the Middle East and our chances of aiding Russia through Persia go with it," a former British war cabinet minister declared gravely. "defeat in Egypt would open the way for axis control of Africa, Europe and Asia through possession of the eastern hemisphere's main crossroads."

Britons' Last Ditch Stand

Informed quarters said Matruh represented a last-ditch stand by the British wets of the Nile, with "practically nothing" in the way of fortifications between Matruh and Alexandria and Cairo. Dispatches from Cairo said Gen. Rommel, gambling on a swift knockout of the battered and weary British Eighth Army, was throwing into action every ounce of his striking power. This included the German 21st and 15th armored divisions, and a huge supporting mass of motorized infantry.

In addition, the axis chieftain was reported using newly captured British and United States-built tanks, hastily daubed with swastikas on their sides. While the British declared their army was still a formidable battle force, bolstered by fresh troops since the disastrous retreat across the Libyan desert, dispatches indicated that British hopes of a victory were pinned largely on geographical advantages.

On Soviet Front

On the Soviet war front, the Russians conceded a dangerous German advance below Kharkov. Red army defenders still held stoutly in the 22-day-old battle of Sevastopol. A bulletin from Marshal Semenov Timoshenko's headquarters said the Germans had captured Kupyansk, 60 miles southeast of Kharkov, and added tersely: "Our troops continued fighting against advancing German fascist troops."

The War Today

ly in the awful heat of the desert.

Rommel—our enemy, but one of the most brilliant commanders this war has produced—again has dared greatly in his tactics. The major portion of his army undoubtedly was fagged out from long and steady fighting in the Libyan blast furnace. His mechanical equipment badly needed overhauling. Yet, in order to deprive his enemy of time for recovery, he took after Ritchie and his eighth army at full speed.

Exhibiting one of his outstanding characteristics, Rommel has chosen the short cut to contact the foe. That route lay along or in the vicinity of the military highway which skirts the Mediterranean, with the endless sands of the desert on the south. In taking this line, Rommel exposed himself to heavy Anglo-American air attacks and to possible shelling by British warships which frequently have rendered the support of their big guns to the land forces.

Rommel's alternative would have been to make a long and arduous trek southwestwards into the desert and then swing northward again toward the sea. I hope you are looking at your maps, for you will note that south of Matruh lies the great Qattara depression, a terrain so bad that the nazis would have had to pass south of it. Also Rommel presumably would have to pause to conquer the cases of Siwa and Giarab which at last reports were in British hands.

Much depends on those long communications of Rommel's. Someway he must keep them open as he goes into this crucial battle. Here is where the opposing air forces presumably will enter the picture in a big way. Already American and British warplanes have been blasting at Bengasi, chief German port for supplies on the military highway, and they also must be bombing nazi supply lines.

One would expect too that Hitler would fling heavy air reinforcements into the engagement, and may even move fresh troops to Rommel's assistance by air. As remarked in previous columns, the outcome of this battle is likely to turn on control of the air.

While the battle for Egypt approaches a climax, Hitler's great correlated offensive in the Kharkov sector continues to increase in intensity. A particularly fierce fight has developed 60 miles southeast of Kharkov where the Germans forced the Reds back and captured the railway junction of Kupyansk. The object of the nazis is to gain control of communications in the important Donets basin, which would be a heavy blow to the Russians. The Muscovites are reported as resisting strongly and bringing up fresh reserves.

Institutional Users of Sugar Must Apply for Allotments Soon

All institutional users of sugar—restaurants, cafes, boarding houses, hotels that serve meals and hospitals—must apply for their July—August allotments of sugar before Sunday, July 5. Mayor William V. Slothower announced today. Applications will be accepted either in person or by mail.

If there has been an increase in business, the user should state with his application the number of meals served in June 1941 and the number served in June, 1942, thereby giving the board an opportunity to make the necessary adjustment. If unable to report the number of meals, applicants are asked to state in dollars how much their business has increased. In the latter case, it will be necessary for the board to obtain permission from state headquarters to make the readjustment.

Civilian users of sugar, Mayor Slothower states, are asked to note the following schedule to ascertain their ration periods and weight value of stamps valid during the various periods: No. 5 (June 28 to July 25), Stamp No. 5, two pounds; No. 6, (July 26 to Aug. 22, Stamp No. 6, two pounds.

FREE THEATRE TICKETS TOMORROW

Don't forget—tomorrow, Saturday afternoon, anyone cooperating with the rubber campaign will be admitted free to the Dixon Theatre. All that is necessary is to follow the rules below:

1. Every child (under 12 years of age) who brings 6 lbs. of rubber will receive one ticket free. One cent per pound will be paid at the door for any amount over the required 6 pounds.
2. Every adult who brings 17 lbs. will receive one free ticket. One cent per pound will be paid for rubber in excess of the required 17 pounds.
3. The boy and girl who brings the most rubber will receive two free tickets which will be good for any show at a future date.
4. The adult who brings the most rubber will receive two free tickets which will be good for any future performance.
5. Two attendants will be at the door to weigh in the rubber—starting at 1 o'clock—give out the tickets—and pay out cash for extra rubber.
6. The theatre doors will open at 2 o'clock and the show will start at 2:30—but bring your rubber early—cooperate by avoiding the last minute rush.
7. This offer is good for the matinee only and no exchange will be in effect during the evening.

40,000 Lbs.

The rubber collection campaign in Dixon is far below quota—so here is your chance to do your part for Uncle Sam and at the same time secure a free theatre ticket. An outstanding double feature will be showing on the screen—Gene Autry in "Stardust On the Sage," together with Lloyd Nolan in "Steel Against the Sky."

Get busy tonight and find that rubber around your home—if you cannot locate enough around your yard—canvass your neighborhood—our soldiers need rubber badly.

ship, he will dwell in his opening speech on two basic themes which served him well in quelling angry M. P.'s earlier this year and which they expect will carry the day again:

Two Basic Themes

1. His oft-expressed belief the tide of victory has turned so strongly for the allies that disasters like Tobruk can't check it.
  2. His close connection with the United States, whose entry into the war made victory certain in the minds of the British people.
- These supporters expect the prime minister to disclose the inner workings—up to the limits of military security—of strategic planning which failed in Libya. Such limits may keep him from naming the man who gave the order to hold Tobruk—where perhaps 25,000 British soldiers were captured. It was this move which many military critics call the leading cause of the disaster.

In the past, Churchill has taken on himself the full burden for decisions, placing the issue on his own capabilities.

May Call Wavell

Many informed sources consider it likely that he will disarm his opponents by ordering a shakeup of the Middle Eastern command, perhaps summoning Gen. Sir Archibald Wavell, who is highly esteemed by the press and public, from India to defend Egypt.

The strength of the Conservative party, which holds a majority of the Commons seats, is an impressive factor in any consideration of Churchill's defense. Some Conservatives may join the political rebellion, but most observers say the Labor vote, shepherded by Clement Attlee, deputy prime minister, is certain to make up for any Conservative losses.

If Britain were to choose a new prime minister tomorrow, most observers say Anthony Eden, not Sir Stafford Sripis, would have the largest following in the Commons.

TO REGISTER RENTS

Chicago, June 26 (AP)—Under federal rent control, landlords in the Chicago defense rental area must register their dwelling units and rates by midnight of Aug. 15 at the office of Earl Dean Howard, area rent director.

The order was announced by John C. Weigel, regional administrator for the Office of Price Administration, who said a separate registration for hotels and rooming houses would be made. The starting date for registration will be announced after Howard assumes his duties.

The Chicago defense rental area embraces Cook, Lake, Kane and DuPage counties.

"Each rental unit in a building must be registered on a separate form," Weigel said. "While the final date for registering the units and rental charges has been set at midnight, August 15, we want to urge the landlords not to wait until the last minute for filing."

Registration will be in triplicate, one form going to the tenant, one to the area rent office files and the third being retained by the landlord.

Weekly Food and Marketing
Letter by Mrs. George Thurn for Dixon Telegraph Readers

Conservation is part of the cooking school program in these critical times when the art of "making things last" is becoming a gospel in every home. Suggestions from your lecturer are not limited to using up leftovers—they extend to conservation in every department. Proper laundry methods are an important form of conservation. Proper storage and regular inspection of clothing belong in this department.

Because of the looming shortages in woollens as a result of war demands added precautions must be taken with men's garments as well as women's suits, coats and such household necessities as warm blankets. The warm clothes moth is being recognized more and more as a relentless saboteur who devours a fortune in wearing apparel each year.

It is false economy to store garments that are not thoroughly clean, for one tiny spot picked up in a single wearing invites a meal from a moth. When possible, brush clothing and air in the sun and wind. Remember Father's dinner jacket when you are gathering up clothing for brushing and storage. Woolen socks and gloves, heavy underwear and fur-trimmed hats all need protection through the summer.

If you are fortunate enough to own a cedar chest, the red cedar heartwood contains a natural volatile oil which is effective in killing moth larvae. But the best of chests cannot help unless the clothes go into it clean. Some homemakers are convinced that thick layers of newspaper are as effective as tar paper, since moths are not partial to the flavor of ink. Moths have an appetite for feathers, as well as woolen, furs and felts.

Have you noticed any silverfish gliding—or rather slithering—around the house? Do not be deceived into thinking that this fast-moving little creature is harmless. The shy silverfish likes the comfort of darkness and often may be seen darting across the bathroom floor or the tub when the light is snapped on. If you have seen one or two in the bathroom, that means more are lurking around in the seclusion of drawers, bookcases and closets.

The silverfish obligingly eats up all the materials the moth scorns, so between the two of them, these pests will ravage an entire wardrobe. The silverfish is fond of rayon slips, tablecloths, starched materials, and if he cannot locate any rayon dresses, he will polish off the meal with a few book bindings. Silverfish eat with such speed that a dress may be shredded in twelve hours' time. New rayon rugs are just like fillet mignon to silverfish.

In the old days the theory was to wait for the attack and then take precautions. Now we are learning to be wary of all enemies that may ravage the land. Make an inexpensive experiment in your own closets and do it this way.

Take an empty, steep-sided jar, like a cold cream jar, and cover the outside with sections of adhesive tape. The tape is a handy ladder for the enemy, giving the silverfish the encouragement of a firm footing on the jar. In the inside place a teaspoon of slightly moist flour.

Place this flour trap in a dark corner of the closet for several days; better still, place one in every closet. The moist flour serves as a dinner bell to the hungry silverfish, who glides nimbly up the taped jar and over the top, skids into the flour and later finds he is unable to get out.

Often this pest does serious damage without even being seen, and this is the season when he is on the job. The name alone should enable you to recognize silverfish. The silvery-grey, horny-coated creatures are only about one-quarter inch long in the body, although the male fellows may run to one-half inch. If they did not skitter around so fast, you would see a three-pronged tail and two feelers which almost triple their length. Unlike moths, it is the adult silverfish that does the ravaging and eats with lightning speed.

The flour-filled jars act as reliable traps, but if you run into a serious invasion, additional protection may be achieved in a number of ways. Silverfish are no fonder of the penetrating odor of paradichlorobenzene than moths are. A few shallow containers of the crystals placed on closet shelves, in dark corners and in drawers usually discourage both pests.

For quick annihilation of hordes of silverfish, experts suggest that the paradichlorobenzene be dissolved in carbon tetrachloride, and that this mixture be used as a spray for the infested room. The fine crystals it leaves at first will soon disappear without harming anything.

Pyrethrum powder, the insecticide that is not poisonous to human beings or pets may be dusted around freely and frequently. It is unwise to use poison as a weapon unless you are sure no youngsters or pets will be in danger.

Conservation is a patriotic duty today, besides being plain common-sense. Check up on your clothing and other valuables and take that extra "ounce of precaution."

HOME MADE ICE CREAM
The all-American dish, ice cream, is in no danger of extinction during sugar rationing, because corn sirup is replacing some of the sugar. In recipes worked out by the division of dairy manufactures, University of Illinois College of Agriculture, corn sirup was substituted for as much as one-half of the sugar. However, the recommendation by the Bureau of Home Economics, U. S. Department of Agriculture, is that one-fourth of the sugar may be replaced by corn sirup.

Vanilla Ice Cream
This recipe suggested by the division of dairy manufactures is for refrigerator-made ice cream. Ingredients required are 1½ cups milk, 2 egg whites, 15 marshmallows and 1 teaspoon vanilla. Slice the marshmallows and mix with milk, sirup and egg yolks. Cook to custard and cool. Add vanilla. Whip egg whites and mix with cooled custard. Freeze to a slush in freezing tray, fold in whipped cream and harden.

Freezer-Made Vanilla
Ingredients for freezer-made ice cream using part sugar and part corn sirup are: 2 quarts coffee cream, ¾ cup of sugar, 1 cup corn sirup, 1 tablespoon vanilla and 1 tablespoon gelatin.

Dissolve the gelatin in ¼ cup cold water and heat the mixture to a fairly hot temperature (165 degrees Fahrenheit) for 2 minutes. Mix the cream and sugar-sirup solution. Add the hot gelatin mixture in a fine stream, stirring constantly. Add the vanilla. This recipe should make 3 to 4 quarts of ice cream, depending upon the amount of air incorporated during freezing.

Grape Juice Sherbet
Sherbets as well as ice cream may be shifted to a sirup standard. This recipe is recommended by university home economists. Use 1 teaspoon gelatin, 1 tablespoon cold water, ¾ cup grape juice, 1 cup light corn sirup, 2 tablespoons lemon juice and ¼ cup water.

Soak the gelatin in the cold water 5 minutes. Heat sirup and ½ cup of water to a boil. Dissolve soaked gelatin in hot sirup. Cool. Add fruit juices and freeze in a freezer.

HOLIDAY OR ANY DAY FOODS
Cherry Custard
Cherries are ideal in the red, white and blue color scheme. Here is a dessert that even the very young can enjoy:

3 cups milk
3 eggs, slightly beaten
1/3 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon of any desired flavoring
Blend sugar with eggs, then milk, salt and flavoring. Turn the custard mixture into individual custard cups, or, a large baking dish, which is placed in a pan of hot water. Bake in a slow oven 300 degrees F. until a knife inserted in the middle comes out clean. Cool gradually, and when cool, serve with this sauce.

Sauce For Custard
1 cup drained, unsweetened cherries
1 cup cherry juice
1/2 cup white sirup (*) or honey
2 tablespoons cornstarch
2 tablespoons butter
Grind cherries and heat with juice to boiling. Mix cornstarch smooth in a little cold water or cherry juice, combine with sirup and add to boiling mixture. Simmer 5 minutes over low heat, or in double boiler. Add butter and chill.

(*) The original recipe called for 1 cup sugar, with very sour cherries. Honey, corn sirup or maple sirup are equally good; adjust quantity to tartness of cherries.

Dressing Up Roast Ham
Roast ham, to be sliced hot or cold, is a dependable standby for holiday parties. It fits equally well into the buffet supper or into sandwiches.

Place whole or half ham, fat side up, on a rack in open roasting pan. Make an incision and insert a roast-meat thermometer so that the bulb reaches the center of the thickest part. Place in slow oven 300 degrees F. and bake without adding water and without covering.

The ham is done when the roast meat thermometer registers 160 degrees F. Allow about 35 minutes per pound for baking a whole ham and about 30 minutes per pound for a half ham.

If the ham was not skinned when it came from the market, remove ham from oven 45 minutes before cooking is completed, and take off the rind. Decorations or special sauces may be added at this time. Return to the oven to finish baking.

Try these variations:
1. Chop ¼ cup marachino cherries and mix with 1 cup strained honey. Pour over the ham and bake long enough to slightly brown and glaze.
2. Baste ham during last half hour of cooking with 1 cup maple sirup.

3. Baste ham with any fruit juice, or fruit juice mixture, during last half hour of baking.
4. Spread ham with 1 cup tart jelly mixed with 1 cup chopped marachino cherries; return to oven to glaze and brown.

5. Spread generously with orange marmalade.

Cinnamon Raisin Swirl
1 cake compressed yeast
1/4 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons shortening
1/4 cup scalded milk
1 egg, beaten
2½ cups sifted flour, about
3 tablespoons butter, softened
1/4 cup sugar
3 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 cup seeded raisins

Rub together in a bowl yeast, sugar and salt until perfectly blended. Melt shortening in scalding milk; cool to lukewarm and combine with yeast mixture. Add beaten egg. Beat in flour, turn on lightly floured board; knead until smooth. Place in bowl rubbed with shortening and lightly rub top of dough with softened shortening or butter. Cover and let rise in moderately warm spot until double in bulk. Cut down. Roll into oblong ¼ inch thick. Spread with softened butter; sprinkle with mixture of cinnamon and sugar and with raisins. Roll as for jelly roll. Swirl in greased baking dish, starting at center and working out; leave about ¼ inch between rows. Let rise until double in bulk. Bake 25 to 30 minutes in hot oven 400 degrees F. Delicious hot or cold.

Monticello Man Is Killed by Train on Crossing Near Lee

Car Driven by Daniel W.
Kuykendall Struck by "Q" Zephyr

Coroner Frank Nangle of Paw Paw called a jury to meet at the Torman & Hill funeral home in Paw Paw this afternoon to conduct an inquest into the death of Daniel W. Kuykendall, 39, of Monticello, Ill., who was instantly killed at 1:34 o'clock Thursday afternoon when his automobile was struck by the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad's crack streamliner, the Zephyr, at a country road crossing about a mile north of Lee.

The victim suffered fractures of the skull and jaw, and both legs and arms were broken.

The impact threw the car more than 50 feet, and the motor was torn from the frame and hurled several feet further on the railroad right-of-way. Wreckage of the automobile, a 1941 model, was taken to a garage in Lee.

Train Backs Up to Scene
The Zephyr was traveling southeast into the village of Lee, bound for Chicago, at the time of the crash. It came to a stop about 100 rods northwest of the Lee station, and was backed up to scene of the accident. The Zephyr was detained about 20 minutes, according to Joe Rambo, C. B. and Q. agent at Lee.

Observers said Kuykendall apparently had seen the train as he approached the crossing, because tire tracks in the gravel road were noted for a distance of about 35 feet on one side of the crossing. The tire tracks indicated that Kuykendall had applied the brakes of his car in a hurry.

Kuykendall was driving west. The accident scene is known as Eden crossing.
Kuykendall was employed by A. W. Ayre in the real estate and farm management business in Monticello. He had been transacting business in Morris, Ill., and apparently was on his way home at the time of the accident.

Kuykendall was born in October, 1902, in Monticello, and had resided there all of his life.
The Lee railroad agent reported that there is no automatic stop signal at the crossing. The crossing does, however, have warning signs.

Piper City Man Goes to Court to Get Job

Chicago, June 26—(AP)—John Ray O'Mara of Piper City, Ill., is suing to force the state department of agriculture to reinstate him as seed inspector and analyst.
O'Mara was charged with inducing persons to vote Democratic in the Nov. 5, 1940, election. His suit, filed in Circuit court yesterday, declared the charges were dismissed by a state civil service commission trial board but the department of agriculture refused to reinstate him.

War Resolution
Splits Methodists

Chicago, June 26—(AP)—The world peace committee of the Rock River Conference of the Methodist church was considering today a move by the Rev. Olin Clarke Jones of Aurora to put the conference on record as stating it "makes a difference" who wins the war.

The Jones proposal was submitted when the conference affirmed the statement of the Methodist general conference of 1940 which said that without any attempt to bind the consciences of individual members the church "will not officially endorse, support or participate in war".

The Aurora minister's amendment to the statement read: "Having thus spoken, we do not also affirm that we are keenly alive to the great issues involved and to the ultimate values at stake in the present total war. We believe that who wins in this struggle makes a difference to the cause of human freedom and to the kind of peace which follows afterward".

Delegates voiced support and opposition to such a declaration and it was sent to the peace committee for action there before submission to the general conference.

Approximately 1,400,000 registrars and facilities of 245,000 elementary schools are needed for nationwide sugar rationing book registration. In addition, 7500 local rationing boards require the assistance of 23,000 persons.

Dixon Collections of Scrap Rubber to Be Made on Monday

Householders Will Take Their Contributions to S. W. Corner of Block

At a meeting of service station operators, bulk dealers and distributors, here last night, plans were completed for a city-wide collection of scrap rubber on Monday, June 28. According to the plan, it will be necessary for every householder to take collections to the southwest corner of the block in which they live. A fleet of trucks will cover the city and pick up the collections from these points.

Although it has been impossible to contact the householders who are located on this particular corner of every block, it is hoped that they will extend their cooperation by supervising the collections in their respective zones. It is suggested that everyone weigh their scrap rubber before delivering it to their designated corner, so that they may be assured of one-cent a pound for their contributions. The trucks will be accompanied by pay masters, who will be in charge of all payments.

Trucks, Men Donated
Service stations throughout the Dixon area are donating trucks and personnel for the city-wide canvass. Boys willing to cooperate in this movement should call 526 by Saturday, and make plans to be at the river front parking lot Monday morning at 7:30.

The campaign for nation-wide collections of rubber, as directed by President Franklin D. Roosevelt, closes Monday night at midnight, according to late dispatches, the campaign to date has been disappointing, and unless the last-minute response meets expectations, this country is faced with a rubber shortage, not only for military purposes, but also for civilian needs. Consequently, gas rationing can be expected.

Householders throughout the Dixon area can do their part on Monday by cooperating in the city-wide drive.

To Postpone Ziller Trial Until July 7

Bloomington, Ill., June 26 — (AP)—The M-Lean county grand jury undertook today to clear its docket of other cases before continuing investigation of alleged sale of jobs in the Kankakee and Elwood ordnance plants.

After today's session the jury will be recessed until July 7. Presentation of witnesses regarding the job inquiry was completed yesterday by Attorney General George F. Barrett and State's Attorney Clifford N. Coolidge.

The inquiry grew out of Barrett's charges that workers in the ordnance plants had reported paying money, before going to work, to George W. Ziller of nearby Weston and Springfield.

Ziller denied any illegal act and said he collected the money as a favor to friends who needed union memberships.

Jerry Dodds, business agent for the Teamsters' Union in Joliet, was the last witness before the grand jury. The jurors also heard Virgil Floyd of the Joliet union and Roy Herbert, Joliet contractor, yesterday.

Ask Illinois Waterway Be Kept Free From Ice

Chicago, June 26—(AP)—The Illinois Defense Council has asked the government to keep the Illinois waterway cleared of ice next winter to permit swift trips by naval and commercial vessels.

Governor Dwight H. Green, council chairman, suggested expansion of ice-breaking operations which were conducted on a limited scale last year. The request was directed to Secretary Knox and Rear Admiral R. R. Waesche, commandant of the U. S. Coast Guard.

The Council estimated that 10,000,000 tons of shipping would pass through the waterway this year.

At least two-thirds of all motor vehicles in the world are in the United States.

Inventory of Harold McCormick Estate Is Filed; Is $8,500,000

Chicago, June 26—(AP)—The Probate court approved yesterday the first inventory of the Harold F. McCormick estate, amounting to $8,500,000, and awarded a widow's share of $75,000 to Mrs. Adah Wilson McCormick.

McCormick, 69, died Oct. 16, 1941, in Beverly Hills, Calif.

Principal item in the estate was $6,734,000 worth of stocks, including 84,200 shares of common and 12,207 of preferred in the International Harvester Company, founded by his father, Cyrus McCormick.

Mystery in Death of Lincoln Man in Auto

Lincoln, Ill., June 26—(AP)—A coroner's inquest was called today to determine whether the shot that killed Roy L. Turner, 35, was fired before or after his car skidded during a rainstorm and crashed.

Turner, a bullet wound in his head and a pistol in his hand, was found in the wreckage of his automobile on a curve near Mason City yesterday. He died before a physician could be called.

It was his third serious accident. He lost his left arm in a rolling mill mishap in Alton several years ago and later suffered injuries in an automobile crash.
